TRAMPS cost Germany a few years ago, it is estimated, $15,000,000 annually for alms and food. A system of 2,300 work stations and lodging houses, located at intervals equal to about a half day's tramp, has practically wiped out the evil. Any man who tramps in Ger-many has to make a business of it and earn his meal by manual labor.

Sextons are proverbially long-lived men. Not many of them, however, can surpass the record of Mrs. Sarah Kitchen, who recently departed this life at the age of 93, she having been for seventy-four years the faithful sextoness of a Leicestershire church. Thus it is proved that it is proved that it is proved that, in still another direction, women can meet men on the same ground and hold their own.

On November 7 next the present electors of Colorado will vote upon a constitutional amendment which declares that every female person shall be entitled to vote at all elections, and in the same manner in all respects as persons. In effect its adoption will be the striking out of the word "male" from the present voting laws It is proposed to give the franchise to women under precisely the same con-ditions as it is given to men.

Fon the first time in the history of the country the outgoing ships are more crowded than the incoming ones from Europe. This unprecedented emigration movement is the result of the hard times, says the Chicago Journal, and will have a beneficial effect in relieving the temporary congestion of unemployed in the United States. ELECTRICITY and steam had their first tug of war at the world's fair. An old Battimore & Ohio engine weighing 31)-5 tons was pitted against an electric engine weighing 25 tons. They were coupled with a cable 20 feet long. At a signal both were "pulled wide open."

The electric engine buzzed and scattered lightning over the surcounding tered lightning over the surrounding country, but was unable to budge the ancient engine. The latter simply gave a couple of puffs and walked away with the lightning bug. This will be good news for those who hate to see an old institution depart. The locomo-tive is here to stay a little while longer.
